JOINT COPYRIGHT AGREEMENT

Health Level Seven International (HL7) and the Clinical Data Interchange Standards Consortium (CDISC) agree to joint copyright on one HL7 FHIR-CDISC IG specification with an HL7 project identification number and HL7 Technical Steering Committee approved Project Scope Statement, which is to be balloted through HL7 and CDISC standard operating procedures.

As joint copyright holders, both HL7 and CDISC agree:

- To include the logos of both parties and a statement acknowledging their joint copyright on all published copies of the aforementioned specification.
- The final HL7 FHIR-CDISC IG specification may be published on both parties' websites or otherwise made available to their respective memberships and others at no cost.
- CDISC will also provide supporting documentation (e.g., Excel mappings) at no cost.
- CDISC will utilize the HL7 FHIR-CDISC IG specification to load the mappings into CDISC Library where they will be available to all users with an active CDISC Library account.
- CDISC and HL7 agree to utilize the name "CDISC" in the title of the FHIR IG.
- Access to the specification will be free of charge per the Creative Commons license used for such FHIR materials.
- Updates to the specification will not be published without explicit written agreement from both parties.
